Figure 6.1: A function $f(x)$ (red line) and its extrema. Black dots mark global and local maxima and minima where the first derivative (black line) is zero. Red dots mark points of inflection where the second derivative (blue line) changes sign passing through zero.